The body was found only a few yards

The body was found only a few yards from the appt where the remains of John Garretson were discovered last Wednesday, and will be sent at once to Salt Lake City.

It is not known just when the slide occurred that cost both men their lives. The two men were at work at the St. James mine, about four miles from this place, and it is supposed that immediately after the great snowstorm they began to break a trail through the snow towards Bingham, and started by their work the slide, which brought instant death.
